Client Armaguard

De Luca is proud to have constructed Armaguard's head office and depot in Murrarie, Queensland, amongst other businesses in the vicinity. We can't tell you much about this top secret construction, except that it was top secret!

As can be expected, De Luca staff members were required to be extra precautious throughout the construction of the Armaguard office, requiring high security with minimised access to the job-site.

The result is a high security compound which is home to one of the most reliable and secure currency management companies in Australia.
